British, French Attack Fields

90 Planes Caught On Ground

LONDON, Friday, Nov. 2 (AP) — British and French warplanes smashing steadily at nine Egyptian airfields are believed to have destroyed or damaged 90 aircraft on the ground.

This announcement came early today from the British Defense Ministry:

The communique did not mention any troop landings.

The Egyptian government announced enemy air action had closed the Suez Canal.

It also seized all British and French property in Egypt.

Israel claimed capture of the Sinai Peninsula—all Egypt's territory east of the canal—and said a 20,000-man Egyptian force was fleeing westward.

If these Egyptians escape, they may be regrouped for defense of the Suez Canal itself.

The Foreign Office in London issued a statement denying Britain and France are "concerting military action" with Israel. It said British and French aims are distinct from the aims of Israel.

The Defense Ministry's communique said French aircraft also had attacked a Soviet-built Egyptian destroyer off Alexandria and set it afire.

No Allied losses have been reported and the Egyptian air force has "failed to come to grips" with the raiding land-based and carrier planes, it added.

The communique said the Cairo West airfield was attacked for the first time Thursday, action there having been delayed until American planes evacuating U.S. citizens had left the area.

An Egyptian communique reported nine British-French raids Thursday on Cairo, three on Canal points.

It said two women were killed and several houses were damaged in Alexandria.

Besides the blazing destroyer off Alexandria, Egypt's naval losses as listed by the British-French command and the Israelis are:

An Egyptian frigate disabled and captured by Israel in a sea-air battle off Haifa in the Mediterranean Wednesday.

Another Egyptian frigate sunk by the British cruiser Newfoundland in the Gulf of Suez on a mine-laying mission Wednesday.

An Egyptian blockship (a former U.S. tank-landing ship) sunk by British bombing.

President Nasser's government said a British-French air raid sank an Egyptian warship in the Suez Canal channel "and as a result navigation was stopped in the waterway."

The statement asserted: "Britain and France stopped navigation in the canal by their action at a time when they shook the world claiming they were protecting navigation in the canal."

British-French headquarters on Cyprus denied the charge. It said a blockship which Egyptians were towing into position for sinking to block shipping was bombed to the bottom by British planes outside the ship channel.

Nasser made a 20-minute radio speech to the Egyptian people, vowing to "fight to the last drop of my blood" rather than "die in slavery."

He declared:

"We shall fight hard. We shall never give up. We shall fight from village to village, from place to place. We shall be victorious. . . . Every one of you is a soldier. Arms have been distributed to everyone able to carry them."

Syria's Premier Sabri Assali announced his country is placing its armed forces at the disposal of the joint Syrian-Egyptian command provided in their joint defense pact.

Eden Receives Four Votes Of Confidence

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP) — Prime Minister Eden's big Conservative majority overwhelmed angry, shouting Laborites and gave Eden four votes of confidence tonight in the military assault on Egypt.

But as the votes were counted in Parliament a crowd of several hundred demonstrated outside the House of Commons with cries of:

"We want peace!"

"Stop the war!"

Scores of mounted police kept order. Five demonstrators were arrested.

Police Action

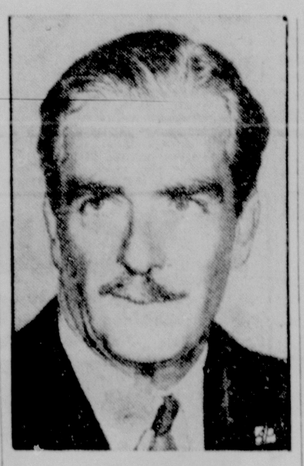

Eden called the British-French expedition a police action.

Three rapid-fire votes in the House of Commons followed one of the stormiest debates in parliamentary history.

Laborite Bessie Braddock called the Conservatives "a band of murderers."

Others said Eden has shamed and dishonored the country, strained the British-American alliance and violated the Charter of the United Nations.

Debate in both Commons and the House of Lords reflected deep differences in the country over the wisdom of the British-French military venture.

Anthony Eden

Protest demonstrations by university students and by labor were reported from cities across the kingdom.

"You best avoid great wars by taking physical action to stop small wars," Eden told Commons in defense of his policy.

The House first voted 324-255 against a Labor censure motion.

Then a government-sponsored amendment to the motion was carried by 323-255. Finally, the motion as amended to show only support for the government was approved 320-253.

Total Strength

The total voting strength in the House now is 344 for the government, 27 for labor, and four for Liberals. The Liberals are believed to have voted on the Labor side.

In the overwhelmingly Conservative House of Lords, a government motion was carried by 82-30.

After the vote in Commons, Laborite George Craddock complained to the speaker that mounted policemen were "charging into people outside."

The scene in darkness outside the House was confused. There were some reports that a few demonstrators were hurt.

Two Divisions Reportedly Cross Frontier

BUDAPEST, Friday, Nov. 2 (AP) — Reinforced Soviet troops seized all Hungarian airfields and the nation braced itself behind Premier Imre Nagy today for new resistance to what Free Budapest Radio called a new invasion.

At 5 a.m. (Budapest time) (11 p.m. Thursday EST) a Hungarian army source estimated that more than two Soviet divisions had crossed the frontier from the Soviet Union into Hungary during the last 24 hours.

The Budapest radio began repeating broadcasts about what it called the fresh Russian invasion.

Nagy had protested to Moscow at the first news of Soviet troop movements but the Soviet ambassador said they were only "regroupings".

Withdrawing

The Premier also announced that Hungary was withdrawing from the Soviet-dominated Warsaw Pact, claiming neutral freedom of any power bloc for Hungary, and putting the country under the protection of the U. N.

Last night eyewitnesses saw 150 Russian tanks circled around Budapest Airport but the radio then said the Soviet Embassy explained they were there to ensure evacuation of wounded Soviet soldiers and Soviet dependents.

It was reported then that the Hungarian air force sought to go into action to take the Budapest airfield but the government forbade it.

The city of Budapest was quiet.

There was some noise of shooting at the outskirts early today.

It could not immediately be ascertained whether it was a clash with the Russians or a continuation of the rebel hunt for members of the former Communist secret police.

United

News of the fresh Russian invasion of Hungary, broadcast repeatedly by the Budapest radio, united the nation behind Nagy.

Shortly before midnight last night it was announced that the general strike would be called off today.

Workers' delegations had declared themselves satisfied with the tough stand of the Nagy government against the Soviet Union and its determination that Hungary should be free and neutral.

The Budapest radio broadcast instructions to workers to go back to their jobs today—including the taxi drivers of Budapest.

Premier Imre Nagy announced a policy of neutrality and immediately protested to Moscow against movement of new Soviet troops into Hungary. He quickly told the U.N. about the new Soviet troop movements and set up a new defense command for Budapest.

Nagy announced he would ask the Big Four and the U.N. to guarantee Hungary's new policy of neutrality outside any bloc.

Nagy summoned Soviet Ambassador Yuri V. Andropov to his office in the battled-scarred Parliament Building to tell him of Hungary's new course.

Hungarian military sources reported two Russian tank divisions were moving into Hungary from the north and east.

Andropov, it was reported, told Nagy these movements involved only regrouping of forces and there was no intention of using them to frustate the rebellion which has shaken Hungary since Oct. 23.

Budapest airport was surrounded Thursday night by about 150 Russian tanks and Russian soldiers guarded its gate. The Russians have had a tank park near the airport for some time.

Explanation

Radio Free Budapest explained the Soviet Embassy told it the Russians were there to make sure Russian dependents and wounded Soviet troops could be evacuated in Soviet planes.

Hungarian troops were in the area but it was apparent that the Russians could take complete control of the airport at any time.

A Belgian Red Cross team, which visited the airport earlier today, radioed advice to Brussels to stop Belgian relief plane flights to Budapest.

There was nothing here to support a Vienna radio broadcast reported heard by American government monitors in Washington. The broadcast repeated unconfirmed reports that Soviet bombers had attacked Hungarian army units and that Soviet armor had taken up new strategic positions in Hungary.

Free Radio Budapest also carried a late night announcement by Janos Kadar, the new Communist party chief who supplanted Stalinist Ernoe Geroe, that Kadar and his followers plan a new Hungarian Socialist workers' party.

Rain Fails To Dampen Parade

NOTHING—absolutely nothing—will keep people away from a good parade.

Last night an estimated 2,000 of them lined streets in The Stroudsburgs to watch the annual Halloween parade. It was a day late. It had been postponed once before because of rain.

The rain was there again last night, but it failed to dampen the spirits of the sprites who marched in the parade or dull the appetites of those who watched it. It was barely more than a dreary, sustained drizzle and you couldn't really call that rain after the torrents and gushes of water that fell the night before.

When the marching stopped, Jaycees lined the paraders up in front of The Daily Record office and awarded prizes for the top entries in the show. These were the winners, announced by Peter Wyckoff, Jaycees parade chairman:

Most Original

Most original child's costume — David Kunz, as the electronic man and (in one of two split decisions) the "Sunflower Kids", Mary Lou Cramer and Alan Lee.

Funniests child—Joe Rehm, the "Christmas Card Kid."

Funniest couple (this actually turned out to be a trio, since there was a small child included)—the "farm couple" made up of Lester, Marie and Gloria Miller.

Most original adult—Mrs. Gladys Bittenbender, who was costumed as a man "with a very long nose."

Funniest adult — (split decision) Ronald Dickinson, dressed as a sailor and Chester Everitt and Joann Jazembak, dressed as a paper bag couple. (Each of the individual winners received $5 prizes.)

Each of four bands marching in the parade received $25 awards.

They were: East Stroudsburg School; Stroudsburg High School; Smithfield School and "The Kemp Kadets", from the American Legion.

Four $10 prizes went to the Tri-Gra-Y, Boy Scout Troop 97, Cub Pack 81 and Boyd Gannon's group of marching horses.

Delaware Water Gap Scouts won the award ($25) for the best float in the parade.

Honorable Mention

Judges made no award for the best "get out the vote" float. A total of 50 silver dollars were given to individual marchers selected by the judges during the parade. These were for honorable mention in the field of costumes etc.

Heading the parade were grand marshals Rep. Van D. Yetter and H. L. Cleveland. The two men are opposing each other for Monroe County's Assembly seat in next Tuesday's election. They rode in identical convertibles.

Also in the parade was the Monroe County Public Library's Bookmobile, driven by Mrs. Elizabeth Kane, chief librarian. There was a "Republican float" which boasted an elephant. And—in two convertibles—rode persons with masks representing Adlai Stevenson and President Eisenhower.

Jaycees had their own float—not in competition—in the parade. Their theme was "Some People Can't Vote—But You Can." It showed two men (both Jaycees) in a cage representing a prison cell, with a ballot box just outside.

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce—who staged the parade at the request of East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg merchants groups— expressed their thanks to the Gra-dale Sorority whose members served as judges.

Ike Proud Of Administration

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower said tonight that despite "the strident voices of those few who seem to be seeking to urn world events to political profit" he is proud of his administration's stand on Hungary and the Middle East.

In a prepared speech which he called "my final formal address of this political campaign," Eisenhower made no mention of Adlai Stevenson by name.

But he pictured his Democratic opponent's major campaign proposals as "a design for disaster."

The President said that in spite of U.S. differences with Britain and France over the Suez, the Big Three Western alliance "will grow to new and greater strength."

Eisenhower's talk before a Philadelphia rally had been billed as one in which he would reply to specific criticism of his administration by Stevenson. Instead, it largely followed the same carefully worded conciliatory pattern of his 15-minute "nonpolitical" radio-television address to the nation from Washington last night.

Indications

Aides indicated Eisenhower vetoed suggestions that he reply point by point to Stevenson on the ground that the situation abroad was too delicate. Particularly, they said, in view of such fast breaking developments as reports that Russia was sending troops into Hungary and the overwhelming vote of the United Nations General Assembly to consider the ceasefire resolution on the Middle East which Britain and France vetoed in the U.N. Security Council.

"Before all else, I am your President—responsible not to Republicans or to Democrats, but to Americans," Eisenhower said.

In following up his comment that the Big Three alliance would "grow to new and greater strength," Eisenhower declared, however:

"We cannot and we will not condone armed aggression—no matter who the attacker, no matter who the victim. . . .

"There can be only one law—or there shall be no peace."

Eisenhower emphasized that, as he puts it, "in the relations of nations, there often exists a just and proper area for compomise."

But he said compromise must not be stretched to the point of breaking moral principles.

"This would be a surrender that we shall not make. . . . We shall continue to practice the peace that we preach," he declared.

Eisenhower's speech was released aboard a special train that brought him to Philadelphia from Washington.

Proposal

It hit at Stevenson's proposal that the United States (1) take the lead in seeking to halt hydrogen bomb tests, and (2) see if some better way than the draft can be found to maintain the manpower strength of the armed forces.

"Would we today feel safe or secure as a nation," the President asked, "If we—sometimes in the past—had already ceased perfecting our military weapons and even abandoned our military draft?

"That is no formula for peace. It is a design for disaster."

Eisenhower said he is proud that the United States declared itself against the use of force both by Russia in the Hungarian revolt and by "foreign forces in Egypt."

He said he hoped the American people share this pride.

Stevenson Continues To Attack Policy

BUFFALO, N.Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson tonight told the nation that President Eisenhower's foreign policy has "failed". As a result, he said, the Soviet Union has been handed "two great victories."

"Our Middle Eastern policy," Stevenson said in a nationwide television and radio address, "is at an absolute dead end."

According to Stevenson, these are the victories scored by the Soviet Union:

"The first Communist victory is the establishment in the Middle East of the Russian influence which the czars sought in vain for centuries and which Communists have achieved in a few months.

"The second Communist victory is the breakdown of the Western alliance. This has been a supreme objective of Soviet policy since the end of the second World War."

This was Stevenson's answer to the President's address last night.

Stevenson said he had three points to make in his reply:

"The first is that this series of failures could have been averted—that they were in great part the result of ill considered and mistaken policies of this administration.

"The second is that this administration not only made mistake after mistake in its Middle Eastern policy but has withheld the consequences from the American people.

"The third is that there are many things which might have been done in the last year to avert war in the Middle East."

Stevenson said the Middle East is one of the world's most coveted areas, with three-quarters of the world's known oil reserves.

Moreover, he said, "it controls the land, sea and air communications linking three continents."

Every nation that has wanted to dominate the world, Stevenson said, has tried to control the Middle East. When Eisenhower came into office in January, 1953, Stevenson said, Communist influence in that area was at a low ebb.

And, he said, he could find no better way to describe the state of the world than to quote these two sentences from today's New York Times:

"The United States has lost control of events in areas vital to its security. This is the main conclusion of serious and well-informed men here tonight concerning the U. S. role in the Middle East crisis."

Nixon Stops Campaign

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1 (AP)—Vice President Nixon said tonight he has changed his campaign schedule so he can remain in Washington over the weekend because of the international situation.

Nixon cancelled a scheduled speaking appearance in Boston Monday night where he was to have appeared with President Eisenhower at a nationally televised election-eve rally.

Eisenhower Holds Urgent Security Council Meeting

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower met urgently with his National Security Council today amid mounting appeals from other capitals that the Middle East fighting be stopped.

A special message from Russia's Premier Bulganin was reported en route to the White House, along with personal notes from the leaders of Egypt and India.

Eisenhower summoned 36 of his top advisers, a near record number, to the two-hour meeting.

Then the President directed Secretary of State Dulles to fly to New York to lead the American drive for a United Nations General Assembly appeal for an end to the bloodshed.

Eisenhower and Dulles were reported banking heavily on the United Nations to adopt, by a two-thirds vote, a resolution calling on Britain, France, Egypt and Israel to stop the fighting which began Monday.

The American strategy appeared to be to mobilize the full force of world opinion behind this appeal, hoping Britain and France particularly would reconsider even now and call a halt to their attack on Egypt.

Consideration

White House press secretary James Hagerty made clear the United Nations action was but one of the moves now being considered by the United States to honor its 1950 pledge to aid the victim of aggression in the Middle East.

He said tersely "No comment" when questioned at a news conference about additional news.

Other officials, however, said the steps under study include an embargo on arms shipments to the Middle East, suspending all economic aid to Israel, possible freezing of Israeli assets, and a slowdown in trade with Israel.

At present, there seemed to be no evidence this government was considering banning military aid deliveries to Britain and France. These have been going forward for the past five years under the government's plan of building up North Atlantic Treaty defenses against communism.

Hagerty said in answering newsmen, that neither Bulganin's message nor personal appeals Abdel Nasser nor India's Prime from Egypt's President Gamal Minister Nehru had arrived yet.

The State Department meanwhile reported that all Americans in Israel who wanted to be evacuated have been airlifted to Athens or left by ship. A total of 1,287 were evacuated, it said, leaving behind 3,721 who were described as not wanting to leave at present.

A grand total of 1,876 have fled Israel, Egypt, Jordan and Syria by plane, automobile and ship during the past three days after the department warned Americans to leave immediately unless it was necessary to stay.

Greyhound, Union Reach Agreement

CLEVELAND, Nov. 1 (AP)—Federal Mediator G. Harry Young tonight said Eastern Greyhound Lines and union representatives had reached an agreement on a new contract, ending the immediate threat of a strike.

Young said terms of the agreement would not be announced until the new contract goes before the union membership for ratification.

Meanwhile, said Young, bus drivers who walked out today will go back to work early tomorrow (3 a.m.) Maintenance workers who walked out after negotiators failed to reach agreement at midnight last night, the strike deadline announced previously by the union, are going back to work immediately, said Young. The walkouts had been branded by the company as unauthorized.

Negotiators had been in session almost continuously since 10:30 a.m. yesterday, but had recessed early this evening and gone into separate sessions, the mediator said.

Eisenhower Halts Trip

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — President Eisenhower today called off a campaign trip to Boston Monday in order to remain close to Washington in view of the Middle East crisis.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said that except for the campaign trip to Philadelphia tonight and a trip to Gettysburg next Tuesday to vote the President expects to be in Washington "for some time."

Rules Out

This seemingly ruled out not only further campaign trips, but any prospect of Eisenhower taking a vacation away from Washington after the election. Such a vacation had been under consideration.

Hagerty said that while Eisenhower will remain in Washington, he expects to speak briefly from the capital during a broadcast of a Republican rally in Boston Garden.

Nixon Praises Ike's Action

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1 (AP)—Vice President Nixon asserted tonight that President Eisenhower has proved again in his handling of the Middle East crisis "that he is at his best when the chips are down and great decisions have to be made."

In his first comment on Eisenhower's speech to the nation last night, Nixon said in an address prepared for a rally here that the President in that talk "represented Americanism at its best."

Dulles Places Resolution Before U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles tonight urged an emergency special session of the United Nations General Assembly to call for an immediate cease fire in Egypt.

Dulles put before the Assembly a resolution drafted after consultations with President Eisenhower and the National Security Council. In his resolution, Dulles also asked the Assembly to recommend:

1. That Israel withdraw behind the armistice lines immediately.

2. That all U.N. members refrain from introducing war materials into the area. This applied to Britain and France which are going ahead with preparations to occupy the Suez Canal Zone.

3. Upon the cease fire taking effect, the Suez Canal be opened to free passage of ships.

4. The Assembly to remain in emergency session pending compliance with the recommendations.

Quick Action

Britain quickly rejected the Dulles' resolution. A British spokesman told newsmen that Britain believed the resolution would not meet the situation. He said it would leave the Middle East in the same troubled state which has led to the grave situation.

The 23-nation Asian - African group met in private and the chairman of the group, Ambassador Djalal Abdoh of Iran, announced after the meeting that "the draft resolution as a whole is agreeable to all the Asian-African nations."

Diplomatic sources also reported that a private agreement had been reached among key delegates to push for an early vote and leave the speeches of explanation until after the decision.

Kefauver Sees U. S. Alone

BOSTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said today Soviet Russia, with—as he put it—the help of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, has succeeded in isolating the United States from its allies.

The vice presidential candidate contributed in a nationally (ABC) televised speech to the drumfire of criticism of administration foreign policy Democratic speakers have been keeping up since the Middle East fighting started.

Delays

He accused the administration of "delays, bumbling and plain duplicity", and said it has "provided Soviet Russia with its greatest triumph since World War II."

Challenging the Republican slogan of "Peace and Prosperity," Kefauver, bringing in domestic issues, asked: "What kind of peace and prosperity is it?"

Recess Ordered For Jury

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1 (AP)—A 12-day recess was ordered by acting President Judge William H. Neely for the special Dauphin County grand jury investigating the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission under Republican control.

Neely yesterday ordered a recess until Nov. 12 after seven days of testimony. He gave no reason for the action.

1. Why were so many local organizations high pressured into giving approval to the so called "Thru-Way," before plans were available?
2. Why do "they" persist in calling it a Thru-Way when the Highway Department in Harrisburg insists that it is a By-Pass?
3. Could it be that by referring to the road as a By-Pass the Public would ask "What does it By-Pass?"
4. Did you know that this By-Pass is intended to be the Eastern end of the Sharon-Stroudsburg Shortway?
5. Why is the above fact in Question No. 4 being kept from the Public?
6. Did you know that such a "Shortway" would eventually have to be enlarged to a 6 or 8 lane highway?
7. Did you know that this plan will cause approximately $4,000,000.00 in property damage?
8. How much will your taxes be increased to make up for the taxes now being paid by this property?
9. Maybe the main advocates of this project will be willing to answer these questions?

Highway Officials To Extend 'No Passing' Zone On Route 611

White Line To Cover Three Miles

HIGHWAY officials have approved extension of the "no passing" zone for southbound traffic on Route 611 to include the entire distance from White Stone Corners, about three miles north of Stroudsburg, south to the borough limits.

At present, the passing restriction applies only as far south as the curve at Repp's cottages.

Stroud Township supervisors were advised yesterday by State Highway Department officials here that the white line marking off the "no passing" zone would be put down as soon as the pavement dries sufficiently to be painted.

Harold Albert, secretary of the Stroud supervisors, said provision will be made for left turns by southbound traffic at both Chipperfield Dr. and Phillips St.

Chiefly

The ban on passing applies chiefly to southbound traffic. Vehicles traveling north on the upgrade will travel on two lanes, except where lines have been marked off to designate left turns for southbound traffic. This will also permit northbound traffic to turn left at Bridge St. and Arlington Heights without interference from vehicles moving toward Stroudsburg.

Approval of the "no passing" zone extension ends an action started by the supervisors in 1953.

Rep. Van D. Yetter (D-Monroe), the supervisors and S. I. Blum, traffic engineer of the Allentown office of the State Highway Department, conferred last Friday on the move. Word came through yesterday that Harrisburg officials had approved it.

In 1954, Stroudsburg Council petitioned the state and received permission to prohibit passing on Ninth St. from the borough limits south to Main St. A short time later, Stroud supervisors put in a second request for extension of the passing ban. It was on this petition that the state acted yesterday.

Two Minor Accidents

MOUNT POCONO—State police investigated two minor accidents in which no one was injured last night.

The first occurred at 7:30 p. m. on Route 90 three miles east of Mount Pocono. Cars involved were a taxi driven by John Stanley, 66, of Cresco and a sedan operated by Betty Jane Williams, 21, of Cresco. Police said Miss Williams backed out of a private drive; collided with the taxi.

At 9:10 p. m. on Route 290 west of Canadensis Edward Fisher came out of a private drive and collided with a car driven by Floyd Van Horn. Fisher is 60; Van Horn is 49; both live in Canadensis.

CD Boat Unit Meets

MONROE County's CD boat unit met last night at Civil Defense headquarters in the Court House.

Harold Hosier, unit coordinator, said that 12 members attended. A film titled "Tornado" was shown. A second film called "Operation Ivy" on the Hydrogen-bomb tests was postponed until the December meeting. Hosier said the second film was delayed to another date due to lively discussion among members of this year's projects.

Although last night's meeting was slated to be the last of the current year, Hosier said that it will be necessary to hold another in December to wind up the year's details.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP) — The New York Newspaper Guild today reached agreement with the city's major dailies on a new nine per cent contract package spread over two years.

All seven of the city's major newspapers agreed to the formula. However, the New York Post was unable to reach agreement with the guild on fringe issues not directly related to wages.

Bell Telephone Employes Add Spark To Chest Drive

MONROE COUNTY Community Chest's annual fund drive received an encouraging shot in the arm yesterday when Bell Telephone Co. employes reported a 43 percent increase over their combined contribution last year.

All employes working out of the Stroudsburg central office subscribed to the current Chest campaign, according to the report filed with Miss Hazel West, executive secretary.

It was also disclosed that 44 percent of the contributors at Bell will pay their pledges through the payroll deduction plan, which permits extending the payments over a full year if desired.

Expression

Chest President M. S. Baldwin, when advised of the increase in giving by 100 percent of the Bell workers, expressed his thanks to the donors and said he hoped employes of other businesses and industries would respond in similar manner.

Campaign solicitors report they have encountered almost no refusals to contribute to this year's campaign for $74,575. At this week's meeting of campaign workers, when 35 percent of the quota was reported reached, Chest officials noted that more contributions had been reported in the early phase of the drive than at a comparable time a year ago.

The second report meeting will be held on Nov. 13.

Democratic Party To Hold Rally

MONROE COUNTY'S leading Democratic candidates and guest speakers will provide the highlights tonight at a party rally.

On Agenda

Scheduled to appear also are George Rung, chairman of the United Labor Committee for Stevenson and Kefauver on the local level, and John Farley, president of the Central Labor Union of Monroe County.

Nixon Turns To Simpson

BERWICK, Pa. Nov. 1 (AP)—Sen. Edward Martin (R—Pa) wound up for a flowery introduction of Vice President Nixon on the back platform of the Nixon campaign train today and came out with:

"Ladies and Gentlemen, I give you the greatest vice president in the history of American government—Dick Simpson."

The slip was understandable. Martin had just been visiting on the train with Rep. Richard Simpson (R—Pa) who is chairman of the GOP Congressional Campaign Committee.

Woman Suffers Injury Of Minor Nature

A BROOKLYN, N. Y. woman suffered an ankle sprain in a two-car collision at Stroudsburg Seventh St. bridge intersection last night.

The accident occured at 6:25 p. m. Stroudsburg police said, Stella Peck, the injured woman, was a passenger in a car driven by George Joseph Schaeger, also of Brooklyn.

Police said Schaeger smashed into the right front side of a car going east on Ann St. and operated by Margaret H. Barber, Stroudsburg RD 1. The Barber car was spun around on the wet pavement so that it was headed in the opposite direction, police reported.

An eyewitness told police that the Barber woman had the right of way and traffic lights at the intersection were in operation at the time. The injured woman was treated at General Hospital dispensary and released, hospital sources said.

Clark Hurls Charge At Dulles

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1 (AP)—Joseph S. Clark, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, today charged Secretary of State Dulles "fuooined" the foreign policy inherited from President Truman.

Clark, campaigning in the suburban industrial areas of New Kensington and Wilmerding, declared that peace about which Republicans boast "flew out of the window yesterday because ofthe most incompetent secretary of state in history."

Sebring Airs Reorganization Of Districts

NEWFOUNDLAND — Reorganization of various school districts within Monroe County was described in detail for parents and teachers of Greene-Dreher-Sterling Joint School students by Walter Sebring, assistant county superintendent of schools, at the October Parent Teacher Association meeting held here.

Citing the progress in most districts, Sebring gave a brief history of the reasons for the growing movement toward consolidation of districts into larger units, pointing out that the State reimbursement was an important factor.

Sebring described the "growing pains" within the districts of the Pocono Mountain Jointure presently being organized. He listed the large area involved and the scattered population as two of the main problems which must be solved before a successful jointure may be realized.

Noting that Greene-Dreher-Sterling School is an example of a successful jointure, he stated that the local setup was one of the first of its kind, being accomplished in 1917.

The speaker was introduced by Leland G. Cramer, supervising principal, and program chairman, who also introduced John Strupcewski, music supervisor, whose topic was the District Music Festival.

Plans for the festival were detailed by Strupcewski, who reported that 67 schools are included in the district and each will be invited to participate. The 80-member orchestra will be selected on the basis of musicianship and seniority, and each of the schools will be represented, he said.

The festival, to be held in this area for the first time, has been scheduled for April 4, 5 and 6, 1957.

A banquet, a dance, workshops, rehearsal, and the concert on the closing night will highlight the festival, Strupcewski stated.

"Why You Should Vote," was the topic of a talk by Donald Frick, a Problems of Democracy student. He suggested a three-point plan for voters: think, decide, and then vote.

Membership committee chairmen Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Janet Van Ben Schoten, Mrs. Wilfred Frick, and Mrs. Robert Barnes, reported for their various areas as chairmen of the committee. Mrs. May Gilpin spoke for the Finance Committee, reminding members of the penny dinner, open house, and band concert to be held on Friday, Nov. 16.

Scoutmaster Richard McLain announced the re-chartering of Boy Scout Troop 129 and Cub Pack 129, and commented on the recent awarding of the Eagle rank to Scout Franklin Madden.

Refreshments were served by the committee at the close of the business session at which Clayton Northup presided.

'Most Urgent' Appeal Made By Walter For Two Nations

A "MOST URGENT" appeal on behalf of the embattled peoples of Poland and Hungary was dispatched to the State Department yesterday by Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa), of Easton.

The congressman called upon Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to request leaders of American religious, civic and labor organizations to organize collection drives for medical supplies, food and winter clothing for children and adults.

All of the materials and supplies are badly needed in Poland and Hungary, Rep. Walter declared. Both countries revolted against Russian Communist rule late in October and set up their own governments.

Congressman Walter sent this telegram to Secretary Dulles:

"The gravity of the Middle East crisis must not deflect our attention from Eastern Europe where, through the sacrifices of the Polish and Hungarian people, great progress has been made toward the final triumph of freedom and liberty.

"Regardless of intergovernmental negotiations about American economic aid, it is most urgent to rush direct aid to the embattled people of Poland and Hungary.

"I urge you to appeal to leaders of American religious, civic and labor organizations to undertake immediate nationwide collection of medical supplies, food and winter clothing for children and adults, most urgently needed in Poland and Hungary.

"I am certain that the American people will respond with their usual generosity.

"In order to obviate fallacious excuses for refusal of official supervision of foreign assistance by still unstable governments of both countries, I urge you to avail yourself of the good offices of Mr. George Meaney, the president of the AFL-CIO, and obtain through him the cooperation of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions in Brussels, Belgium, for the purpose of sending to Poland and Hungary observers drawn from the ranks of European labor leaders who will supervise the distribution of supplies sent from the American people.

Barrett Party Successful

CANADENSIS — Teen-age Halloween Party sponsored by the American Legion Post 922 of Barrett Township proved to be a huge success Wednesday night.

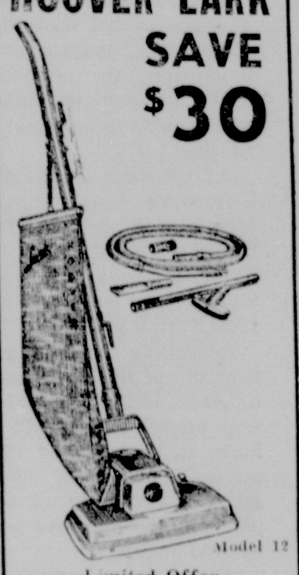

Approximately 175 students of Barrett Township Schools did an overwhelming job proving to the Community that they did know what they were talking about when they said they could have a good time without risk of property damage or personal injury if given the opportunity. As many as 50 autos sat along-side the party without so much as a "soaped" window.

Barrett reportedly showed no evidence of Halloween whatsoever.

The party kicked off to a fast start with a balloon dance followed by the Grand March of costumes, first the seventh to ninth grades, then the 10th through 12th.

There's No Sound Reason For Hassle Over Financing Shortway And Route 6

Proponents of the move to win support for building a superhighway across Pennsylvania from Stroudsburg to Sharon will have the opportunity, Nov. 19, to state their case before the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads in Washington, D.C.

A conference has been called in the office of Charles D. Curtiss, commissioner of the bureau, which Z. H. Confair, president of the Keystone Shortway Assn., has been invited to attend.

Confair requested the conference to answer testimony given previously by the so-called "Save Route 6 Committee."

Gov. George M. Leader and Highways Secretary Joseph J. Lawler have advised the bureau they favor construction of the Shortway as a part of the federal interstate highway system in place of an earlier proposal which called for the reconstruction of U.S. Route 6 as a limited access roadway.

Sources along Route 6, running from Port Jervis, N.Y., to Erie, are agitating against inclusion of the Shortway under the federal program which provides for a 90 per cent contribution by Washington. The balance will be paid by the state.

State officials answered this opposition at Wellsboro last week when they outlined a $30,000,000 improvement program for U.S. 6 in which the present winding highway would be completely modernized as a scenic tourist route under 50-50 state and national funding.

At the same time, Secretary Lawler reiterated the state's stand against placing U.S. 6 on the federal interstate system for limited access highways "to avoid the possibility of denying access or exit to the highway to many businesses now located on the route."

Addressing the same group, made up of members of the Roosevelt Highway (Route 6) Assn., Deputy Secretary George R. Richards predicted there will be 90 million vehicles on the roads by 1975 instead of the present 60 million. Furthermore, Gen. Richards said, there will be 228 million people using the highways instead of the present 160 million.

What Gen. Richards was saying was this: a 50 per cent increase in the number of vehicles within the next 19 years will put a tremendous burden on all of the nation's highways, even those to be built under the federal government's 35 billion dollar road program.

It seems useless, therefore, to argue against building one highway in favor of another when both of them will be needed to accommodate the heavy traffic load in the years to come. The Shortway, as well as Route 6 and the Pennsylvania Turnpike, all will be busy funneling traffic from one end of the state to the other, so let's have all three of them and not quibble about how the Shortway and Route 6 are to be financed.

Secretary Lawler said the Shortway would be the "shortest and most direct connection" between New York City and the Middle West. It would serve the central third of Pennsylvania, the Turnpike the southern third and U.S. Route 6 the upper third.

Shortway President Confair has indicated he will support the modernization proposal for Route 6 when he presents arguments on behalf of the Shortway at his conference with Commissioner Curtiss in Washington.

This is sound reasoning and should help convince federal officials that both projects should be financed along lines proposed by the state. A favorable decision is awaited.

Sympathy For Voters

There is a great deal of sympathy these days for the political candidates who are wearing themselves out in backbreaking campaigns in search for votes. But hardly anyone has expressed similar sympathy for the voters.

Representative Ostertag (R-NY) has remodied this situation in a letter to his constituents. What he says about the voter is worth repeating:

"My heart goes out to him in sympathy. For if he has not considered all the facts, he is not fit to make the decision; and if he has considered all of them, he probably is in no condition to make it. The only consolation he has is that certain knowledge that the man he votes for will be, by election day, in much worse shape than he is."

How To Start A Crusade Proving Writer Is Great

"Newspaper columnists are hams at heart," according to a newspaper pal of mine in Boston. Better even than bylines, they enjoy getting laudatory fan mail. (Maybe from a kissing cousin, but can you help that?)

There is, however, a king-sized frustration in getting fond letters. This is one time you wish the editor would peek at someone else's mail. It is important (to you) that he know what a dandy impression your thesis on onion-growing made on this sweet, kind reader. But columnists, shy creatures that they are, would resist any unbecoming self-praise. They could bundle up their bouquets and lay them on his desk —but that's too obvious.

Byliners are rumored to have toyed with the less direct method — supplying mimeograph machines to friendly readers just in case they felt like spreading the good word. Too impractical. Or they have hoped large and noisy fan-clubs (named for guess who) might descend in force at the editor's door, shouting for earlier editions. As if they couldn't wait to read more. A suspect course. The boss man might catch on who was a charter member.

The editor does get mail about you, though. But not usually from admirers. Seems that those who direct letters straight to his desk have some deplorable suggestion in mind such as. . . We won't elaborate the point.

Roland E. Wolseley once wrote a magazine article on "How to Praise an Author." To a young lady admirer he proposed several letters all designed to convince an editor that Mr. Wolseley's articles were what readers couldn't get enough of. From these the young lady was to select one, dispatching it to the editor forthwith. You might know this female would get it all wrong.

"Dear Sir:" she wrote. "I want to write to say how much I enjoyed the article on 'How to Control Artichokes while eating them.' . . . It has been suggested to me by Mr. Roland Wolseley, the author of your article, that you might be interested in more of the same. So I am writing to offer you some pieces of my own, one on unusual cucumber salads and. . ."

My pal in Boston and I figure there must be some (devious) way of routing past the editor's piercing eye honeyed words coming our way. And whisking the brickbats out of sight. We haven't quite got it perfected, so don't let on I said a thing.

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

The brand-new, identical ranch houses in Belly Acres were very handsome, but two cautious young newlyweds inspecting same questioned the soundness of their construction. The renting agent of Belly Acres took this as a personal affront.

He left the newlyweds in the dining room of one of the houses and darted into an adjoining bedroom. In a low whisper he asked, "Can you hear me?" "Not too distinctly," admitted the husband.

"And can you see me?" "Not through the wall; of course, I can't."

"Ah hah!" crowed the agent, bouncing back into the dining room, contract and fountain pen in hand. "That's what we call construction in Belly Acres!"

CUTIES —By E. Simms Campbell

"He left because I kept using can openers for his meals. —what did he expect me to use? My fingernails?"

Robert S. Allen Reports

Britain, France Advised Israel Planned Invasion

Washington, Nov. 1: Britain and France "knew well in advance" that Israel would attack Egypt, but the U.S. had no inkling of it and was caught completely by surprise.

That's what Central Intelligence Director Allen Dulles reported to President Eisenhower, at his White House conference with State Department and military leaders on the Middle East emergency.

The CIA chief did not amplify his startling statement. He gave no indication of his basis for making it, and offered no explanation why Britain and France were given prior word and the U.S. was not. Dulles did express concern about this, but went no further than that. No questions were asked him.

Throughout the grave discussion, the President stressed three points:

He is "unalterably opposed to any kind of hasty military action." Everything possible must be done to "restore and keep the peace in this region, but U.S. military forces will not be used until all other measures have been thoroughly explored."

If exceptional steps are deemed necessary they will be taken only if Congress approves them.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles sounded a note of caution about calling Congress into special session.

"Any proposal involving the use of armed forces against Israel," he said, "is certain to evoke loud and violent opposition in both House and Senate. I doubt if approval could be obtained in time to be of much value."

The question of employing American military forces was raised by Admiral Arthur Radford.

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff did not advocate this. He carefully expressed no view either way on the matter. Radford discussed it solely from a technical aspect.

"If our forces are to be used," he advised, "that should be done as soon as possible to keep the fighting from spreading and to end it quickly."

Radford also expressed the opinion that Israel's assault on Egypt, "is not an all-out war, but is designed to cripple Egypt's capacity to provoke an all-out war at a time of its choosing."

The fighting between Egypt and Israel, it was brought out during the White House conference, is not halting the flow of U.S. military aid to Iraq. These arms and equipment are being provided indirectly through Britain. The U.S. pays Britain for the supplies, and Britain turns them over to Iraq. A shipload, including a number of medium by the British to Iraq this week. (Centurion' tanks, was delivered

This indirect arrangement of providing Iraq with U.S. military aid is due to the former's long having had a British military mission and Iraq forces' being British-trained and equipped. Also this process is one means by which the U.S. supports the Baghdad Pact, organized by Britain, of which Iraq is a key member. The U.S. is not a direct partcipant in this alliance, but heavily underwrites it with financial and military assistance.

Since 1954, more than $16,000,000 in military aid has been earmarked for Iraq. Of this total, $14,000,000 has been expended, and another $2,000,000 in equipment "is in the pipeline;" that is, it's enroute.

So far, these funds have provided Iraq with 38 tanks, large quantities of small arms and ammunition, numerous trucks and other motor equipment, and radio and communications supplies.

If you're planning to come to the Capital for the occasion, don't lose any time in making sure you will have a place to stay and transportation going and coming. You can't start early enough on these preparations. If you delay, you may be disappointed. The demand is already exceptionally heavy.

Friends Will Be Friendlier

By Jim Riley

Members of the Mount Pocono Rotary Club are a friendly lot. And, to make certain they stay that way they plan to feature a course in "friendliness."

Actually the club is running a public speaking and "How To Win Friends and Influence People" course, under the famous Dale Carnegie formula.

Paul Asure, club president, and Walt Fossa, past president, report that the class is open to anyone interested in joining the ranks. There are 19 committed to take the course—leaving room for 21 more.

Walt and Paul, who have been building this venture in past weeks, should be twice as friendly as many of the other "students." They have both taken the course previously.

Paul took the course in Allentown last year, while Walt took it in 1936 (How old are you?) from Carnegie himself.

The sessions will take place every Thursday at Pocono Manor and will probably begin sometime in February.

Anyone interested is asked to contact Paul, Walt or any member of the Pocono Mountains Rotary Club.

Appointment Won't Help GOP Much

WASHINGTON — Republicans discount the chances of their party gaining any important political strength through President Eisenhower's new appointment to the Supreme Court but they admit it didn't hurt any.

Mr. Eisenhower caught nearly everyone in Washington by surprise when he named William J. Brennan, a 50-year-old Democrat and Catholic from New Jersey, to succeed retiring Associate Justice Sherman Minton.

While some politicians have tried to read into the selection an appeal for the Democrat and Catholic vote, GOP sources say that Mr. Eisenhower's motives were based strictly on Brennan's record as a judge.

These Republicans concede that the fact that Brennan is a Democrat and a Catholic might add a few votes to the GOP ticket but George Sokolsky Says . . .

Only One Officer Of Bank Knows Name Of American Making Swiss Investment

I came across a very interesting pamphlet, entitled "SEC and Foreign Capital," issued by De Pontet & Co., Inc., which states the Swiss position regarding anonymous bank accounts better than I had ever seen it. Any person can make a deposit in a Swiss bank, with only one officer of the bank knowing who the true owner of the account is. To that officer the individual must disclose his name, address, occupation, nationality and "whether all correspondence pertaining to his account should be forwarded to his address or kept in his file with the bank where he will check it whenever he comes to the bank."

Further, it says in this pamphlet:

". . . In case he wishes the correspondence to be sent to his home address, the directors will take care that letters are not written to him on the bank's official letterhead paper, but on a plain sheet and address only to the number of the account; such letters are forwarded in a neutral envelope so that no one suspects they are from a bank. If the client lives in a foreign country, a special employee mails the letters in the client's country so as to avoid any suspicion that the client is in correspondence with Switzerland . . ."

What kind of money is this that requires so much secrecy? If it is American money, what is it doing in Switzerland and why do the accounts have to be surrounded with all this hocus-pocus? The answer must be that this money has gone underground.

When such money comes to the United States, the true owner is generally not known or knowable because no Swiss bank will identify the owner of an account. Not let me quote:

"On most of these accounts Swiss bank executives have discretionary power and invest in Switzerland as well as abroad, mainly for long-term capital gain . . . There is a reciprocal tax agreement between Switzerland and the United States whereby a Swiss holder of U.S. bonds pays only 5% witholding tax and 15% on U.S. stocks. However the 30% withholding tax on dividend income applies to number accounts when the client is not a resident of Switzerland . . ." However, a smart man can arrange for a nominee who does live in Switzerland.

The three Swiss banks that specialize in American investments are the Union Bank of Switzerland, Credit Suisse and the Swiss Bank Corporation.

Up to now our government has never been able to break through the Swiss barrier of secrecy. But it is possible for a Congressional committee to delve into the European Investment in American defense industries and shares of a company engaged in defense activities to be registered, excluding a bank unless the bank officials certify that the bank is the true and rightful owner of the money.

Perhaps the heart of the difference between the American and European attitude is in this paragraph:

"I am worth $250,000 and I earn $60,000 a year.' Such a statement would not be possible from any European; no one there tells of one's earnings or wealth . . . The American does not hesitate to speak publicly about his worth and earnings. Perhaps this basic difference in approach is the origin of the American misunderstanding of bank secrecy."

Of course, we pay our taxes, as much as we hate them and as much as we all think we cheat a little. Actually, it is astonishing how little Americans do cheat. In fact, if anything the government collections are too tough due to confusion in the law. The European, except the British, does not regard it as dishonest not to pay taxes. Also there have been so many wars and revolutions in Europe that the man of means has to use his head to keep what he has.

That is why this small country, with a population of 5,000,000 population has over 400 banks, with 3,000 branches, with "This is more than the yearly gross national product of Switzerland, which amounts to $5.5 billion. . . ."

The Once Over —by H. I. Phillips

The office of a big racing publication was held up by a bandit who got $12,000 in daylight without arousing any alarm. This isn't so strange. Probably the place was busy with its handicapping, a routine which calls for full concentration. We picture an event of this kind in three scenes:

Scene I.—A bar with the bandit getting his riding instructions.

"You sure you're fit and ready for this one?"

"I'm moving up but I got the foot."

"How about the weights?"

"I'm in light. They've got their cashier loaded. Any last minute orders?"

"Get away fast and remember it's a sprint."

Scene II.—Front of cashier's cage.

"Don't make a move. This is a stickup."

"You're over your head here."

"That's what you think. Hand over the dough. What are you waiting for?"

"I'm waiting for the gate to open."

"Make it snappy or else."

"You'll have to excuse my lack of early speed. I haven't had any morning workouts for this."

(The cashier hands over the $12,000.)

"Don't sound any alarm until I've been gone five minutes."

"That's slow for this sort of event."

"Yeah, but I'll do better next time out."

Scene III. — Racing writers' room.

Office boy.—"Help! There's a stickup."

Handicapper. — "Quiet! You're distrubing my calculations."

Office Boy.—"No kiddin'. A bandit stuck up the cashier."

Handicapper.—"Who won?"

Office Boy. — "The bandit by twenty lengths, unextended."

Handicapper. — "That's how my form chart had it figured."

So You Want To Go On The Stage? ? ?

Trapped in a treacherous trade, stage actors sip Chateau Yquem one season, shiver in cold water flats the next. In a recent survey of the activities of its membership Actors Equity discovered that in a year's span a sixth of its personnel found no employment in the theatre. Those who did—averaged ten weeks' work. . . Their average income was $790.00. . . Only one in eight of those who worked made as much as $5,000. . . . Shriveled by its own statistics, Equity came to this conclusion: "Anyone primarily concerned with earning a living by his profession should try elsewhere but the theatre". . . Most actors would be reduced to the extremity of eating their own young if they didn't add to their income through television, radio and screen engagements.

Playwrights and producers run the same rags-to-riches gamet. . . . Because of this deplorable state of affairs many of the stage-crazed have alternate trades, secondary professions to which they can turn—when the wolf starts to claw at the door. . . Playing in "Ball at the Savoy" at London's Drury Lane (in '33) Maurice Evans rode to the theatre in the truck he used to make deliveries for her dry-cleaning business. . . Elmer Rice was a 21-year-old lawyer when he wrote his first great hit, "On Trial" . . . Michael Redgrave ("The Sleeping Prince"), actress Mildred Dunnock, playwrights Paul Vincent Carroll ("Shadow and Substance") and Marcel Pagnol ("Topaze") and qualified school teachers. . . Judy Holliday ("The Bells Are Ringing") operated a telephone switchboard for Orson Wells' Mercury Theatre before she got her first acting assignment in "Kiss Them for Me."

Buddy Hackett ("Lunatics and Lovers") is a skilled upholsterer; during World War II invented the first contour chair. . . Ethel Merman, nee Ethel Zimmerman ("Happy Hunting"), was an Astoria stenographer before she clicked in Gershwin's "Girl Crazy". . . Alec Guinness (last seen here as the enigmatic psychiatrist in "The Cocktail Party") was a copy writer in a London advertising agency before he made his first entrance. . . F. Hugh ("The Moon is Blue") Herbert was an advertising expert at Selfridge's leading London dept. store, before he tinkered with plot and dialogue. . .

AS MAINE GOES?—Gov. Edward Muskie, Maine's popular Democratic governor who won reelection by smashing margins this past August, would venture no hard and fast "predictions" on the outcome of next Tuesday's national election yesterday. Gov. Muskie (in center here) stopped briefly at Penn-Stroud Hotel en route to Scranton. On hand to talk with him were county Democratic chairman Jacob Altemose and Granville Shiffer, county committee treasurer. (Staff Photo by Randolph)

Maine's Governor Expresses Cautious Type Optimism Of Democratic Election Chances

By Leonard Randolph

MAINE'S YOUTHFUL Democratic governor, Ed Muskie, expressed cautious optimism on his party's chances in the coming election yesterday.

Gov. Muskie stopped briefly at the Penn Stroud Hotel dining room last night on his way through to Scranton. He was slated to appear there last night.

Tall, smiling and an intent listener, Ed Muskie displays even on the briefest acquaintance, the qualities of obvious sincerity and friendliness which won him an unprecedented plurality and a second term in this year's Maine election.

Muskie is built like a logger or a star basketball center and when he sits in a booth surrounded by men of normal size he seems to dwarf them by comparison.

Last night he laughed quickly when I walked in, stopped at the booth and said: Excuse me, but aren't you Gov. Muskie?

Yes, he said, he supposed he was. And how did I find out he was there?

After brief introductions all the way around, Muskie agreed to answer a few questions. The party was late on its road to Scranton and one of the men with Muskie laughed and said if anything else happened they might not even make it to Scranton. They'd run into bad weather and couldn't fly in, another man said.

The governor said that things were relatively quiet in Maine itself. Most of the excitement this year had been created and sustained by the battle for the governor's post. "It's pretty tough to get people excited all over again in a matter of a few weeks," he said. "Especially when you've had a tough August race."

The man who has knocked Maine out of the Republican column twice in a row—for the first time in years—said that his fight for election in August had been a "really competitive one." He said it with a note of pride.

Gov. Muskie said that he had not done as much campaigning outside the State this year as he would have liked to do, but his own election fight had kept him pretty busy.

In other states, however, he had found "much more activity" than in Maine itself. In Detroit, he said, he attended the "first $100-a-plate dinner" the Democrats had ever held there—because Michigan had always been a Republican state until the continued election of Gov. G. Mennen Williams. The first dinner was an unqualified success, he said.

In New York state, he said, overall registrations—in both parties—have dropped nearly 10 percent. New York has no permanent registration system. Democrats there seem to feel very optimistic about their chances next Tuesday, he said—but everywhere there is the same complaint that the voters seem "apathetic" this time.

One things is evident, however, in a trip through either of the two states he went on. That is the change in attitude on the part of Republicans.

"Four years ago the Republicans had what they called a "crusading spirit." This year there doesn't seem to be much of that," he said.

As Maine's governor sized it up, this could mean one of two things: Either there is a lack of interest in the election or the workers feel that they themselves have already made up their minds and so has everyone else.

No matter how next week's election turns out, he said, the secret to the success of the party which wins will be hard work at the local lvel.

Party organization is a highly important factor in any election, he said. "It was because we had workers in the counties in Maine that I won re-election," he said.

And that is the thing that wins battles, he said.

What about the old saying: "As Maine goes, so goes the nation?"

Republican Maine's Democratic governor didn't seem much inclined last night to say either "Yea" or "Nay" to that one.

Ed Muskie has never been a man to project his own strong political feelings into the cold realities of the ordinary day.

And that—as most of the Republicans who voted for him in Maine would tell you—is an indelible part of his charm.

John Willhoite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Willhoite, 1020 King St., Stroudsburg, is cast as C. K. Dexter Haven, the romantic lead in the play. According to Ralph Smith, the director, Willhoite—who is "breaking in o college dramatics for the first time"—promises to do a fine job in the production. He is a freshman in the secondary course at the college.

ESSTC Group Pays Visit To Court House

UNDER the guidance of Prof. Kurt Wimer, 60 students of American Government from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College visited the Monroe County Court House yesterday. The field trip included a demonstration of the voting machine and visits to the county law library and court rooms.

Judge Fred W. Davis spoke to the students about the importance of the judicial system and the functions of the court. General questions of law were discussed by Judge Davis.

Inquiries about search warrants, juries, appeals, and the controversial Fifth Amendment were clarified by the judge.

This demonstration of the function of democratic processes, according to Prof. Wimer, has helped the students to develop a better attitude and understanding of the American judicial system.

Toll Bridge Commission Changes Policy

DELAWARE RIVER Joint Toll Bridge Commission, through its Executive Director, George L. Feaster, announced yesterday a change in its policy of operations covering the use of passenger car commutation tickets on the Portland-Columbia and Milford-Montague Toll Bridges.

The commission heeded numerous requests from governmental (local and county), agricultural, civic, and citizen groups in authorizing the change from the policy activated on June 1, 1956 restricting use of the tickets to 30 days from date of issue. After making a detailed study, the commission decided to increase the period of validity to 90 days from date of purchase.

The 90-day policy went into effect yesterday. Feaster said that commutation tickets sold prior to yesterday would be honored on the basis under which they were purchased; namely, tickets purchased prior to June 1, 1956 are good for one year; tickets purchased from June 1, 1956 thru October 31, 1956 are good for 30 days.

Extension

In making the announcement, Feaster emphasized that the members of the commission desired to extend maximum possible convenience to the residents of the area adjacent to the toll bridges notwithstanding the fact that the Portland-Columbia and Milford-Montague Toll Bridges have been operating at a deficit since they have been opened. The detailed studies disclosed that commutation is normally based on restrictions of time within 30 days, but since the toll structures are located in rural areas the normal concept of commutation required analyses based on unusual factors.

The Traffic Engineers, DeLeuw, Cather and Company, of Chicago, who conducted detailed surveys for the commission prior to the issuance of the bonds which financed the construction of the bridges, recommended the sale of commutation tickets in books of 20 tickets for a dollar good for 15 days.

The commission's vice chairman, William M. Norton Jr., Phillipsburg, sponsored the resolution activating the 90-day policy.

Feaster also announced that bids for construction of a new pedestrian bridge linking Portland with Columbia had been received and the low bid was $319,762.00 submitted by Lenry, Inc. and William P. Bergan, Inc., of 122 East 42nd St., N. Y. Contracts are being processed and construction will begin as quickly as possible.

Builders Expect Higher Home Prices

THE NATIONS home builders expect higher price tags on houses constructed in 1957, according to the Monroe County master Builders and Contractors Assn.

That is a firm conclusion. Otherwise, the home builders are uncertain how many new houses they will build next year.

Housing starts are expected to be down from this year's anticipated output of 1,100,000 new homes.

However, one thing is certain—home builders are confident they will sell every house they build in 1957. They expect the heavy demand for new homes will be reflected in sales as good or better than this year.

These conclusions are based on a survey of 600 home builders made by the National Association of Home Builders. Results of the survey were released yesterday by Joseph B. Haverstick, NAHB President.

The 600 builders are members of the NAHB Builders' Economic Council, and they represent 6,000 years of home building experience.

The survey disclosed that the median price on the 1957 house is expected to be about $15,200 as compared to $14,700 this year. This is an increase of about 3.4 percent.

ALLSTATE Insurance has announced that its famous low interest Econo-Rate auto financing service is now available. And arrangements can be made by contacting Ross Howe the local agent.

This plan combines Allstate Insurance with financing at low bank interest rates. During the past few years thousands of new and used car buyers have used this plan to save on their auto purchases.

Howe lists some of the advantages as: A real savings in both interest rates and insurance. The added safety of having an insurance expert handling the protection of your purchase. And if the purchaser wishes, all financing can be arranged in the home of the buyer where members of the family can be present and all phases of the insurance and loan can be handled leisurely and without interruption. And finally the Econo-Rate plan is available to everyone. You do not have to be insured with Allstate at the present time in order to take advantage of this service.

DESIGNED TO answer the oft-repeated question—"How will this paint look on my walls?"—a new color selector service has been introduced at the local Sears, Roebuck and Co. store, Harold Kresge, manager, announced today.

Consisting of a book with various room scenes on transparent acetate, hundreds of different color combinations can be placed beneath the acetate and thereby offer a preview of how various hues and color combinations will appear in a room setting.

"Until now the effect of new decor was left to the imagination," Kresge explained. "Sears new color selector book clearly illustrates what certain color combinations will look like in a room perspective."

"We expect this new service will prevent much disappointment for the homemaker when painting or redecorating," he added.

Eighteen different floor coverings are also included in the book and represent tile patterns and linoleums, textured and patterned carpets.

This new book is located in Sears paint department. William Lotz, who is the department manager, will be happy to review the book with anyone who may be interested in seeing it.

Monroe In Commerical Corn Program

ACCORDING TO an announcement made by David H. Griffith, chairman of the County ASC Committee, Monroe County has been declared a commercial corn county under the 1957 program.

Griffith explains that in determining a commercial corn producing area, counties are designated on the basis of: (a) those having an average production of corn (excluding corn used as silage) during the preceding 10 calendar years after adjustments for abnormal conditions—of 450 bushels or more per farm and four bushels or more per acre of farmland in the county, and (b) those bordering counties in which there is a minor civil division which is likely to produce the above amounts of corn for the year.

Comply

Since Monroe County has been declared a commercial corn area for 1957, growers who comply with the program will be eligible for price support and to participate in the program under the Soil Bank Act of 1956.

Individual farm acreage allotments or Soil Bank Base acreages, whichever are applicable, for 1957 corn crop will be based on recent corn acreage history. To obtain this information a field survey will be conducted by ASC Committeemen and reporters.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Indecision is much more tiring than action, and picnics and parades can wear down their sponsors to a nubbin. Will you? won't you? can't I coax you? all day long. A good solid rainy day settles the matter. So does one with bright blue skies. But this in-between business is frustrating.

Mothers whose small children were in the afternoon parade were quite contented with the weather. For the first time in years you could could see what the paraders were dressed up as. Usually they have to wear so many sweaters, coats and leggings that all you see is a glimpse of a ruffle or the tip of a red-rouged nose.

More than noses were rouged on some of the paraders last night they discovered when they started to take off the damp costumes, which in some cases had become more or less permanent, thanks to crepe paper and non-fast dye.

But to get back to this matter of indecision, you may now pity the poor householder. No sooner does he get the tricks-or-treaters out of his hair than in swarm the flies. Then you have to decide whether it is better to roast, or open the screenless windows and let in all the flying, crawling, creeping things that have decided that the shortest winter on record is over and have come out of hibernation.

One thing you don't have to decide, though, is whether to take down the storm windows and put up the screens again. You'll swelter it through or get out the

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

There's a Continental flavor around our Wyckoff candy department right now—and it's deliciously intentional! Being holiday minded, Elsie Miller has once again stocked a big supply of Continental Baking Company's very excellent fruit cakes, some in boxed cardboard and some, at popular request, attractively encased in a colorful tin box with autumn design.

When it comes to fruit cake there are as many varieties as there are types of people to enjoy them. We have carried the Crosse and Blackwell fruit cakes for years, and we know that there are countless customers who would accept nothing less. Crosse and Blackwell fruit cakes are loaded with fruits and nuts, and never come any way but in a pretty tin container. They are chewy, rich, and highly flavored, and they smell as wonderful as they taste. We always have them on hand for Thanksgiving, Christmas and any other occasions when good eating is the prime factor of successful celebrating. We have them now—priced at 1.59 and 2.98, and Elsie is also carrying an assortment of date and fig puddings by this famous company. But there are some persons who demand a lighter fruit cake—one less fruity, perhaps, and not so rich. For these customers, we carry the Continental.

Each of these fruit cakes is undoubtedly tops of its kind, and you won't go wrong in serving either at your holiday table. The Continental fruit rings are 79c and 1.49, while a 2 and ¾ lb. cake in the autumn leaf box sells for 1.79. The latter would make a very lovely gift for your thanksgiving hostess.

Congratulations are in order for Elsie Miller, our store's newest grandmother, thanks to daughter Jane. The baby, who weighed over 8 lbs., is to be named Vernon Jon Hanna, after his dad and granddad, I imagine . . . One of the most attractive displays in our store is the dining table set with Stangl's Wild Rose, in our housewares department. Mary Hitesman tells me this particular dinnerware has been a great favorite since we introduced it here last summer. A 16-pc. starter set retails for 14.95. Everyone's just wild over wild rose! . . . "Did you behave yourself in New York City?" someone asked our Boss jestingly the other morning. "Well, I'm not sure how I behaved," quipped Mr. E. H., "but I certainly had my hands full with those ten crazy kids." Mr. Wyckoff has just returned after two days in the company of ten of our very finest Wyckoff salespeople, who scored touchdowns in one of our recent store-wide contests. "How was New York?" they are being asked. And the unanimous answer is "Wonderful," after which they droop in feigned fatigue. A visit to Cinerama, tours of the stores, and some of the city's finest restaurants, all add up to a marvelous, memory-making time . . . Enjoyable too, I'm told, was the store's Hallowe'en party Tuesday evening. Elvis Presley was there!—and Claude Miller did such an excellent job of portraying him everyone was fooled; Betty LaBarre was another fooler in a beautiful Chinese costume complete to rice bowl and chopsticks; Mardee Albert was a very perplexing devil; one of our new Sears employees was a shiek and his wife a Harem girl; and two Tea Room employes were encased from head to ankles in Wyckoff boxes. All in all it was a lot of "Hollerwe'en . . . Our stationery department has some very excellent aids for the would-be budgeter, in Household Expense books and folders containing envelopes for the filing of household funds. But setting oneself up on a budget that balances involves a rather sizeable expenditure for aspirin, if your head for figures is no better than mine. I'm the Rex Harrison type, I guess. My experience is much like his when he began budgeting. His first written report read: taxi fare, 1.50; tip, .50. Miscellaneous, $7.00.

"Please, Darling, don't forget"

And with this gentle reminder from a charming woman we know, her husband stopped by the family's favorite food store (how could he forget, when it is so conveniently located) and put an end to his wife's search for a special delicacy.

"Full of surprises," he reported to his wife, referring, of course, to the vast, international variety of rare temptations to be found only at

Water Gap Gives $51.25 To UNICEF

DELAWARE WATER GAP — The Junior Youth Fellowship and church junior choir members gathered $51.25 for UNICEF last Saturday night. This will provide 28,255 glasses of milk for undernourished children abroad.

The children had first held their grand march in costume at the Methodist Sunday School room. Prizes were awarded to Isabella Mannes, gypsy, for the prettiest outfit; to Linda Anthony, hobo, for the funniest; to Robert Ace, sailor, for the most original.

The 36 children went out in six groups to canvass the borough. Returning to the church, with the money counted, they enjoyed a film strip of UNICEF and a ghost story by Mrs. Philip Hanni and a game. Refreshments were served.

Workshop Members Discuss Makeup Of Two Writings

IN SPITE of the pouring rain members of the Pocono Mountains Writers Workshop met on Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kushner, 115 Broad St., Stroudsburg, where the construction of the short novel, or nouvella, was considered.

A round-robin discussion of structure and limitations was featured and it was emphasized by speakers that richness of characterization adds tremendously to the charm of any story and a vital test of competence in writing lies in making the characters "come alive." It was emphasized that any work of fiction is desperately handicapped if the characters do not "come alive" and make keen appeal to the heart and mind of the reader.

New Version

In an endeavor to square his new historical novel "Hungry Hill," with these requirements, Oliver Wilson, of East Stroudsburg, brought in a new version of his first chapter, which was unanimously considered graceful and appealing. He had emphasized characterization and also had borne down hard on scenic locale. This section of his story is set on "Big Pocono" or "Tannersville Knob" and his word picture of the Monroe County mountain region was warmly praised.

William P. Deering brought in for examination the final chapter of a nouvella of 30,000 words staged in the 1890 period in a New England marine setting. An attempt had been made in this story to reconstruct the flavor of that late Victorian period.

ALEX Traycheck, the West End links owner, announced that the Indian Mountain Golf Course at Kresgeville will be open (weather permitting) during November.

Traycheck and his wife Vee report that beautiful nine-hole course in top-flight condition for this time of the year.

Anyone in the area considering embarking on an umpire's career may get a good idea of the vocation and its fine points and hazards by writing to Al (Blacky) Somers in Daytona Beach, Fla.

Somers, a native of the coal regions and a former ball-player in the area, has opened an umpires school in Florida for prospective officials of the diamond game.

For 15 years Somers has been associated with the Bill McGowan Umpires School, having personally trained 85 per cent of all active minor league umpires.

He uses the Cleveland Indians' farm base as headquarters. The address is P. O. Box 2041, Daytona Beach, Fla.

Joe Ference, Bill Quick's mixologist, is hitting the woods this week in attempt to bring down some small game. No report has been made of Ference's nabs (if any) or for that matter no one knows whether the cigar-smoking Dickson City native has found his way out of the woods yet.

BOWLING TIDBITS — Wally Straub had himself quite a night in the Strouds Men's League recently, coming up with a 670 series via games of 227, 234 and 209.

Milt Miller hit a new high single in the Worthington Mower League, rolling 216 last week. In other WM activity, Don Chiodo cuffed the maples consistently for a 531 (weekly high) on tilts of 186, 167 and 178. Chiodo also had the most strikes—14, while Decker was the night's leader in spares with 13.

Ed Miller had the biggest increase in average in the Industrial League last Saturday. Miller upped his norm from 140 to 149 by garnering a 521. Other bowlers who went upward were Sterling Green (five points) on a 510; Dick Singer (five points), 477; Leonard Forry (four points), 524, and Willard Miller (three points), 523.

A five-way battle has turned up in the average race, with approximately two points separating the first and fifth keglers. Leading is Pete Murphey with 179.18, followed by Ken Fetherman, 178.7; Oscar Stuckey Jr., 178.5; Bob Smith, 177.14, and Bill Zubrod, 177.5.

Four 200 games were hit in last week's action. Jim Harmon Sr., being the highest with 213, trailed by Leonard Forry, 503; Ken Fetherman, 202, and Will Miller, 200.

Eugene Whittaker zoomed skyward in the Bushkill League with a single game of 234 and a match of 568. The fine series moved the new high single and match leader to a 164 average.

In the Commercial "B" Babe Miller posted a match of 643 with three games over the 200 mark. Babe's Service Station five took three points from L & B Appliances as Angelo DeAngelo assisted with a 577. Only four points separate the six entries in the circuit.

Ye Salyors Inn, composed of Jim Harmon Sr., Ted Dippre, Cliff Adams, Bill Miller and Ralp VanWhy registered a single game total of 1033—high for the year—and notched a 2833—also a seasonal mark—as Harmon and VanWhy led the scoring parade with 625 and 608 respectively.

Tom Sommers kept up his top-flight kegling with a 620 series in "B" activity last week.

Followers say that the Monroe Classic League enjoyed its best night of bowling in seven or eight years last week. Bill Altiers and Red Top Tavern both had aggregate totals over 2900 as each battled for top place. Altiers holds the lead, but only by a small margin.

Individual pin toppling highs were mopped up by Dick Andress, 672; Harmon Sr., 661; Al Andress, 656; Tom Sommers and Woody Fenner, 617 each; Jim Harmon Jr., 610; Sam Strunk, 602; and Russ Bergman, 600.

Half of the bowlers in the loop have an average of 180 or better.

Sam Strunk rolled his second consecutive 600 match in the Monroe County League, and Al Besecker, owner, captain and general all-around man of Besecker's Snydersville Diner, kept his team in first place with a 582. Only five points separate the first five quintets in the Classic flag race.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 1 (AP)—Whitey Skoog scored 20 points and Clyde Lovelette contributed 17 as the Minneapolis Lakers defeated the Rochester Royals 97-88 in a National Basketball Assn. game here tonight.

VFW Team And 80 Players Also Cited At YMCA Fete

TWENTY-FOUR Stroudsburg Little League "graduates" were honored at the annual banquet of the Circuit at the YMCA last night.

Also cited at the affair, which was sponsored by the Little League Auxiliary of Stroudsburg, were the VFW team, winners of the 1956 championship, and some 80 players of the Stroudsburg Security Trust, National Bank, Colonial Diner, Peoples Coal and Penn Stroud Hotel teams.

Eugene Martin, dean of men and head football coach at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, was the principal speaker. He stressed the values of hard work in attaining a goal, especially in the academic and athletic fields.

Players who graduated from Little League ball (12-year-olds and over) were presented trophies. Recipients were Bruce G. Agins, Robert Baehr, Barry Wood Bartron, Terry Lee Buck, Charles Peters Eyer, John L. Farry Jr., Donald Grover, Gary Tyrone Haas, John Heckman, Jack Imbt, Howard F. Jennings, James D. Kitson, Dennis Landreth, William Sterling Passinger, Vincent Scagliatti, Thomas A. Schaitman, Gerald Shanley III, Robert E. Sommers, Robert Starner, David Stupp, Robert H. Whalen, Douglas Williams, Warren Loney Jr.

Presented Awards

Commissioner of Little League, William Hawn, presented the awards. Jack Mullins, who announced his retirement officially as president of the league, welcomed the guests and led the assemblage in group singing. Jeanette Harris accompanied.

Mrs. Russell Albertson, president of the auxiliary, spoke briefly and introduced the organization's officers. They were Mrs. Claire Coleman, treasurer, and Mrs. Helen Williams, recording secretary.

Guests

Guests at the speakers' table were Bob Clark, Daily Record's sports editor; Hawn, Rev. Francis Barrett, Ray Walters, vice president, and Mullins, and Rev. Peter N. Wohlsen.

Rev. Barrett, of St. Matthew's Catholic Church, East Stroudsburg, gave the benediction, and Rev. Wohlsen, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg, offered the invocation.

Americans Set New Marks In Track Tuneups

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1 (AP)—America's Olympic Games track and field team, topped by a sensational throw of 63 feet 2 inches by Parry O'Brien in the shotput, shattered one American and two world records today as it concluded tuneups before heading for Australia next week.

Runners Charlie Jenkins, Lon Spurrier, Tom Courtney and Lou Jones broke the world mile relay record with a clocking of 3:07.3.

Beat Good

This foursome defeated Arnie Sowell, Josh Culbreath, Glenn Davis and Eddie Souther, who also bettered the world mark with a clocking of 3:08.1.

The world time of 3:08.8 was set in London in 1952 by a U.S. team of Gene Cole, J. W. Mashburn, Reggie Pearman and Mal Whitfield.

Another Record

Oregon's Bill Dellinger ran the 5,000 meters in 14:16.2. This broke the official American record of 14:26.8 set in 1950 by Fred Wilt. The time was improved upon last month at Ontario, Calif., by Max Truex, who ran second to Dellinger today in 14:16.7.

O'Brien, who holds the recognized world shotput record at 60 feet 10 inches, had nothing less than 62 feet today.

Urges Schools To Step In On 'Sponsors'

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Chancellor Harvie Branscomb of Vanderbilt University said today that colleges which sponsor athletics "need to be challenged to remain amateur."

Branscomb spoke at the second annual Grantland Rice Memorial Award luncheon, where Walter "Red" Smith, New York Herald Tribune columnist, was presented with an award for "outstanding sportswriting in the Rice tradition."

The award is made each year on Nov. 1, birthday of the late sportswriter, who would have been 76 today, and is sponsored by the Sportsmanship Brotherhood, Inc.

Money Top Thing

"Instead of the game, the money becomes the chief thing and one plays not for fun, friendship, and glory, but for the publicity and the signed offer," Branscomb said.

"I would suggest that the development of sports has gotten to the point where the preservation of the amateur spirit is going to have to be stated not solely in terms of the high school athlete and the lone tennis player. Lincoln said this nation cannot be half slave and half free. We cannot have amateur players and commercialism in management."

Brooklyn Wins Seventh On Tour

HIROSHIMA, Japan, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers seconded their seventh victory in Japan today when they beat the Kansai All Stars 10-6 on Jim Gentile's 3-run homer in the seventh inning. It was Gentile's fifth home run of the tour.

Before the game both teams participated in the unveiling of a memorial plaque to Hiroshima baseball fans killed in the atomic bomb blast in 1945.

Losing Team Set To Lose Head Coach

AMES, Iowa, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Iowa State College football team, which has been losing virtually all of its games, is losing its head coach as well.

Vince DiFrancesca, 34, former Northwestern star, announced today he is stepping out at the end of the season "because I never want to lose my enthusiasm about football and winning."

"I will be available for any good coaching offer," he added.

Came In '54

DiFrancesca came here in 1954 from Western Illinois State where he had a record of 38 victories, 7 defeats and 1 tie in five years.

At Iowa State, his teams have won only two games in two years and his three-season record to date is 5 wins, 18 losses and 1 tie. He will stay on for the four remaining games this season.

DiFrancesca was hanged in effigy on the campus this morning but it turned out he'd actually resigned four days earlier. The effigy bore a sign, "Vince, there should be some changes made."

Owen Is Named Cardinal Scout

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1 (AP)—Mickey Owen, onetime St. Louis Cardinal catcher who was released as a Boston Red Sox coach a few days ago, has been hired as a Cardinal scout in the Puerto Rican area for the winter, the club announced tonight.

NFL To Hold 4 Rounds Of Draft Nov. 26

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1 (AP)—The National Football League will hold the first four rounds of its annual player draft and bonus selection here Nov. 26, Commissioner Bell announced today.

Bell said a fifth round of the draft might be held if the 12 member clubs vote unanimously for it. The NFL will hold the balance of the draft—it usually involves 30 rounds—at the league's annual meeting in mid-January.

Other Plans

Also to be discussed at the November meeting will be arrangements for possible ties in the league's two conferences — the Eastern and Western — and plans for the championship game, scheduled for Dec. 30 in the home park of the Eastern champion.

The bonus pick is an out-of-the-hat draw with the lucky winner earning the right to select the rights to any graduating college player in the country. Once a team wins the bonus pick it is eliminated until all 12 teams have had a chance to win. Only Green Bay and the Chicago Cardinals will participate this year.

Started In '55

Last year was the first for this partial draft meeting, initiated in order to give NFL teams an equal opportunity with the Canadian league in bidding for new college talent. The Canadian season ends in November and the clubs from north of the border start early looking for American players for next season.

Brown To Seek 3rd Straight KO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Henry (Toothpick) Brown of Philadelphia, seeking his third straight knockout, goes up against Paolo Rosi of Italy in a 10-round lightweight scrap at Capitol Arena tomorrow night.

Brown, a tall and skinny stablemate of Gil Turner, has disposed quickly of his two previous 1956 foes, finishing both in the first round. He hasn't fought since Aug. 8, when he bowled over L. C. Morgan at Chicago.

Rosi, balding at 28, shouldn't be so easy. The invader from Italy, now married and living in the Bronx, has experienced some pretty fair competition in winning 22 of his 25 recorded bouts. He has 10 kayos to his credit and one against him.

End Dave Middleton caught 44 passes for 663 yards as a rookie with the Detroit Lions in 1955.

Stanford Tackle, Pitt End Show PCL, East 'Potential'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

STANFORD tackle Paul Wiggin and Pittsburgh end Joe Walton are examples of the fine crop of All America line candidates emerging from the penalty-ridden Pacific Coast and maligned East in the current football season.

In between the continental extremes, the always-productive areas boast such outstanding performers as Jim Parker, Ohio State guard, Kentucky tackle Lou Michaels and Jerry Tubbs, the Oklahoma center.

But one of the surprising features of the grid campaign just entering the November home stretch has been the wealth of line talent which has risen in the wake of the conference's clampdown on the Pacific Coast.

True In East

The same is true in the East where the reputation of the college game has suffered in recent years.

Walton, son of a Pitt great, caught the pass that beat tough Syracuse among his many accomplishments to date. The play might prove to be the decisive one in the battle for the Lambert Trophy, symbolic of eastern supremacy.

Another wingman worthy of attention is Army's Art Johnson who has improved as a pass receiver to go with the exceptional defensive ability he has exhibited since his plebe days.

Valentine Tops

Capt. Sam Valentine of Penn State is a guard who could play for any team, report the Eastern A-A board members. The East also offers Ed Bailey of Syracuse, Stan Slater of Army, Mike Flynn of Villanova and Lou Lovely of Boston University at the guard spot.

Penn State's Dan Radkovich and Syracuse's Bill Brown give the tion at center. Both do everything well and play for keeps.

Keystone Schoolboys Enter Final Month Of Grid Play

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Pennsylvania schoolboy football season enters its final month this weekend with do-or-die games scheduled for league leaders.

Hollidaysburg, Tyrone, Charleroi, Ambridge, St. Clair and Coal Twp. take on teams that could upset the standings in the Western and Eastern Conference and WPIAL AA.

Hollidaysburg and Tyrone are currently tied for second place in the Western Conference, largest schoolboy league in Pennsylvania. Windber, the top team, is ineligible for the title this year.

St. Clair and Coal Twp., one-two in the Eastern Conference Southern Division, will be fighting the rating system in games against Cass Twp. and Pottsville.

Possible First

A victory for Coal over Pottsville would also put the defending eastern Conference champions in a position to cop honors in the Keystone League. A victory for St. Clair would give its first all-winning season in history.

In other games:

Hazleton is at once-beaten Tamaqua; Harrisburg John Harris plays Lancaster; and Steelton is at York.

Here's how other major games shape up:

Eastern Conference Northern Division-Swoyersville and Clarks Summit, one and three in the standings, are idle but second place Duryea takes on Scranton Central. All-winning Wilkes-Barre Coughlin meets traditional rival Wilkes-Barre GAR.

Easton-Allentown

Big Three—Easton, which has already beaten Bethlehem, entertains Allentown. A win for Easton would mean the championship.

Suburban Philadelphia A—Lower Merion faces Cheltenham in an attempt to extend the state's longest all-winning streak to 29 games. Unbeaten Haverford entertains Ridley Twp. Lower Merion and Haverford play Nov. 10.

5 Yanks Stay In Running In Mexican Golf

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 1 (AP)—Five Americans, including Walker Cup pers Bill Campbell and Joe Conrad, survived double rounds of match play today to reach the quarterfinals of the Mexican National Amateur golf tournament.

Campbell, an insurance man from Huntington, W. Va., who captained the U. S. team in its last Walker Cup match with Great Britain, rallied from a twohole deficit to win his afternoon match, 1 up in 19 holes from Armando Rivero of Mexico, after sweeping past Mexicos Ernesto Villarreal, 5 and 4, this morning.

Defeats Hiskey

Conrad, former British Amateur champ from San Antonio, Tex., defeated Jim Hiskey, Pocatello, Idaho, 2 and 1 after disposing of Raleigh Selby, Tyler, Tex., 7 and 6.

They were joined in the quarter finals by Rex Baxter, Amarillo, Tex., winner of the Mexican Amateur in 1954, Robert Davies of Pasadena, Calif., and Herbert Durham, Dallas, the other three berths were won by Canadians George Knudson and Joe Leblanc, and Mexico's Juan Antonio Estrada.

Tom Heinsohn, former Holy Cross All-American basketball player, is with the Boston Celtics this season.

Finsterwald, Hagge Named Most Improved

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 1 (AP)—Dow Finsterwald, in his second full tourney year, and Marlene Bauer Hagge today were named "most improved professionals" of 1956 by Golf Digest magazine.

Finsterwald, 27, climbed from a 14th finish among 1955 money winners to second behind Ted Kroll this year. Through the Western Open this year, Finsterwald, a slender 155-pounder, had earned $28,113, compared with $15,386 last year.

Set Money Mark

Mrs. Hagge, 22, established a new ladies' PGA money winning record of $20,855, almost doubling her closest rival. Last year, the attractive blonde swinger left the tourney circuit in July with $7,051, seventh in the year's standings.

Althea Gibson Out To Show World Her Tennis Prowess

By WILL GRIMSLEY

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 1 (AP)—Althea Gibson arrived in tennis-minded Australia today with a preconceived plan for establishing herself as the world's greatest woman amateur tennis player.

"I am looking forward to this Australian tour and some more meetings with Shirley Fry," Althea said. "I feel sure I can get rid of some complexes."

Miss Fry, who defeated Miss Gibson enroute to the Wimbledon and American championships, is scheduled to arrive here tomorrow to compete in various tournaments climaxed by the Australian national championships late in January in Melbourne.

Met By Officials

Miss Gibson, a tall Harlem Negro girl who won 23 of 29 tournaments in a sensational sweep this year, was met at Sydney Airport by top officials of the Lawn Tennis Assn. of Australia, presented with a big bouquet of flowers and was subjected to an intensive interview by the Australian press.

Althea was the top attraction at the airport although other passengers on the plane were Oscar Hammerstien, composer and theater producer, and members of Sweden's Olympic rowing team.

Miss Gibson, who lost three of four matches to Miss Fry during the 1956 season, said she did not plan to exhaust herself with as extensive a campaign as last winter and spring, when she played half around the world.

Plans To Prove

"I was awfully tired when I played Shirley at Wimbledon and at Forest Hills," she said. "I think I have the game to beat her and I plan to prove it.

"When Shirley beat me at Wimbledon I think I cultivated a complex. Every time I played her I felt that she had me. This is a complex I must whip. . . ."

Paul Hornung, Brodie Rate Top QB Edge

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JOHN BRODIE of Stanford and Paul Hornung of Notre Dame are vying for All America football honors as different types of quarterback stylists.

The Associated Press regional boards looking over the nation's backfield candidates have come up with numerous quarterbacks but Brodie and Hornung rate the edge as the collegiate season heads down the November home stretch.

Both Quick

Both signal-callers are quick, perceptive team leaders but Brodie has a touch of brilliance in his passing while Hornung, a converted fullback, is at his best running the option off the split-T.

Not far behind the pair is Purdue's Len Dawson according to the Midwest board members. Like Brodie, he is a superb passer.

Mentioned

Halfbacks Tommy McDonald and Clendon Thomas of Oklahoma, Johnny Majors of Tennessee and Jimmy Brown of Syracuse and fullbacks Jack Pardee of Texas A&M, Paige Cothren of Mississippi and C. R. Roberts of Southern California are among the names most frequently and emphatically mentioned.

Among the other backfield candidates mentioned are:

Quarterbacks—Milt Plum, Penn State; Bob Kyasky, Army; Guy Martin, Colgate.

Halfbacks—Tom Morris, Princeton.

Fred Williams, Yale soccer captain, participated in soccer, basketball and track at Andover.

Oklahoma Returns To 'Loop' To Up Skein, Hold Rating

By JACK HAND
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

OKLAHOMA turns to family warfare in the Big Seven Conference Saturday with its shiny 35-game winning streak and its No. 1 ranking in the nation riding against once-beaten Colorado.

The trend is toward conference and league competition among the major college football teams with only a sprinkling of intersectional tests.

Pittsburgh's invasion of Minnesota, a clash between the No. 11 and No. 8 teams in the latest Associated Press poll, should provide another interesting test of eastern vs. western football. Pitt, beaten once, is battling with Penn State and Syracuse for eastern honors and Minnesota, once tied, knocked over favored Michigan last week.

Irish Meet Navy

Notre Dame's three-game losing streak and sad 1-4-1 season record rub some of the lustre from the meeting of the Irish and up-and-coming Navy at Baltimore.

George Leck, second-ranked among the football powers, meets a Duke team that has shown signs of real strength. Powerful Tennessee jousts with Coach Jim Tatum's North Carolina boys, who have beaten only Maryland.

The big surprise of last week was Michigan State's defeat by Illinois. Now Michigan State bumps into Wisconsin, hoping to recapture lost prestige and a higher ranking. It's the same story for Michigan, dropped by Minnesota, in its game against unbeaten Iowa the current Western Conference leader. Ohio State, right behind Iowa in the tight race, plays at Northwestern and Illinois is at Purdue in other conference games.

Play Texas Aggies

Arkansas, fresh from a surprise victory over Mississippi, plays the tough Texas Aggies, who ended Baylor's unbeaten string in a Saturday night game.

Stanford can strengthen its Rose Bowl position in the Pacific Coast Conference by whipping a twice-beaten UCLA team after its 27-19 decision over Southern California.

Top East Tilt

Perhaps the top eastern game is the clash of Penn State and Syracuse, two teams with 4-1 records, at Syracuse in a duel between State's Milt Plum and Syracuse's Jimmy Brown. In the Ivy League, Dartmouth is at Yale, Cornell at Columbia, Brown at unbeaten Princeton and Penn at Harvard. Army entertains a strong Colgate team that upended Yale a week ago.

Hershey Twinbill

HERSHEY, Pa. — George Senesky, whose Philadelphia Warriors clash with the Rochester Royals in the first half of a pro cage twin bill at the Sports Arena on Thursday night, November 15, is not at all boastful about his club's repeating as NBA champions.

Top-ranking Oklahoma may be meeting its most stubborn opponent of the season next Saturday.

But it will only be Colorado, and the Buffs rate 26 points lower than the lordly Sooners, who will be seeking their 36th straight win. They'll play at Boulder.

At the same time No. 2 Georgia Tech will be in Durham for its annual battle with Duke. According to the Power Index, Tech's record this year has been 18 points per game stronger than Duke's.

Other national leaders have rated themselves over their Saturday opponents as follows:

No. 3 Michigan State, 11 over Wisconsin; No. 4 Tennessee, 21 over No. Carolina; No. 5 Texas A & M, 4 over Arkansas; No. 6 Minnesota, 5 over Pittsburgh.

The Power Index shows from this season's record to date, average scoring difference relative to rating of opposition. As a forecast it has indicated winners correctly in 77.3 per cent of 1,229 games, omitting ties, so far.

Here's the past performance ratio for other big games of the coming week-end:

East, Saturday — Syracuse 1 over Penn State; Army 15 over Colgate; Princeton 24 over Brown; Yale 9 over Dartmouth.

Midwest, Saturday — Iowa even with Michigan; Ohio State 22 over Northwestern; Purdue even with Illinois, Notre Dame 1 over Navy.

South, Friday night — Miami, Fla., 16 over Florida State. Saturday—Baylor 4 over TCU; Florida 4 over Auburn; Mississippi 14 over LSU; Tulane 12 over Miss. State; Va. Tech 3 over Clemson.

Far West, Saturday — So. California 26 over Wash. State; Oregon State 9 over Washington; Stanford 3 over UCLA; California 7 over Oregon.

Power Index pairings for all of the weekend's games are above.

Dick Dunkel's COLLEGE FOOTBALL POWER INDEX

EXPLANATION — The Power Index ratings are past performance averages. Example: a 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team, against equally rated opposition.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Results of military matters, home and children's affairs, personal improvement, trade advances, medicine, inspiration. Don't waste any precious moments.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Excellent Jupiter configuration suggests that you be alert to advantages and make every hour count. Without straining, get a brisk, smooth start, and keep things going.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—There will be competition from many quarters, but you have equally propitious influences under which to work. Win others trying, however, it will behoove you to step up pace and effort.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—You may run into opposition, cantankerous people, "grim" situations. Keep cool and handle them with your usual diplomatic approach. Tend to duties without being sidetracked.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Don't expect more than you share, but work diligently for all you possibly can. Results will be surprisingly good.

YOU BORN TODAY have more than ordinarily strong will power, unusual talent for dealing with people, initiative to go after things worthwhile, no matter how far or hard the trails. So long as there are high goals you will accomplish. You help others, too. But sometimes you drive too hard, overtax nerves. Travel stimulates your mind; outdoor exercise and sufficient sleep will keep you fit for the hardest tasks. You rarely lose your temper, but can at injustices. Versatility is your outstanding asset. You can benefit community affairs, children. Birthdate of: Jas. K. Polk, 11th pres. of U. S.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Results today will be governed by your friendly—or lack of friendly—disposition, and the judgment you employ. Look opposition over carefully, and don't attack unthinkingly.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Fine aspects for you who remain true to your innate powers of perception, your integrity and desire for fair play. There are hidden opportunities to dig out; no wasting time with lollers.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Some opposition, as we all find at times. Don't be hasty or heedless since there are details and objections with which to reckon. Handle all matters carefully.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Time may be the important factor now. When it is, you should know where to conserve energies, also where to expand. Be judicious even in small matters.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Friendly vibrations on the whole. But you will have to supply the impetus needed in some matters. Don't underestimate the opposition. Stay sensibly within your budget.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Mixed aspects suggest that you weigh more carefully than usual what you would begin or that in which you would participate. Don't ask for the unreasonable, but seek just demands. Be patient, too.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Venus' position excellent for friendships and for building strength through youth groups, education, science, community interests.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your future. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, substract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

85 Bangor People In Adult Program

BANGOR — More than 85 persons have registered to take courses under the Adult Education Program of the Bangor Area Joint School System, it was reported on Wednesday night by Miss Florence Giaquinto, of the Bangor Business and Professional Women's Club, co-sponsors of the program with the Joint School Committee of the schools.

It was also reported that the "do it yourself" course which involves training in the industrial shops needs one or two more persons to register in order that the course can be offered.

No more persons will be accepted in the driver training course, since it is completely filled. This is the only course that has been declared closed because of the high number of registrants. This course will have sessions at least three nights per week, with the class members being given a staggered schedule.

An entirely new course in English will be offered. This will be a diversified program to fit the needs and the requests of the individuals who have registered. Also listed among the new courses offered is the course in arithmetic, which will be offered on Tuesday nights and will be taught by Mrs. Olive Hamm, a member of the mathematics department who holds her masters degree in this area from Columbia University.

Program

The do-it-yourself program in which persons have been urged to register will be offered on Wednesday nights and will be taught by Jay Young, Senior High School shop supervisor who received his masters degree from Rutgers University. Samuel Schatz, art supervisor will offer his course in arts and crafts two nights per week, also because of the large number of persons desirous of scheduling this instruction.

Both courses in typing, advanced and beginners, will be taught by Miss Kathryn Verona and Louis Guida of the school business department, both of whom hold masters degrees from Lehigh University.

Only two courses were dropped from the offerings due to the limited number of interested persons. They are government, covering the area of local, state and national; and the course in music appreciation.

The course in vocational agriculture offered by George Ott, vocational agricultural instructor, is presently being organized and will start sometime this month. All other courses are listed to begin the week of Nov. 19. Any additional persons wishing to register for any of the courses other than that of driver training are urged to contact the office of the superintendent of schools within the next several days in order that proper registration can be completed.

Has The Look Of 1960

THANKS!

. . . for your interest and the reception you gave our new cars. The numbers and enthusiasm of you who came out to see our 1957 Plymouths and DeSotos far exceeds anything we've encountered in our business history!

Due to the tremendous and constant crowds, we had the opportunity to speak to just a few of you. We invite you to come back now, we'll be glad to spend as much time as you wish answering any and all questions you may have about these new cars.

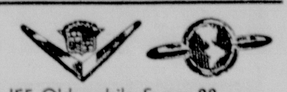

A suggestion, why not come in tonight when you go shopping? Lots of parking room here.

Thanks again.
